

TEACHER FEATURE OF THE WEEK: MR. DANIEL LACOURREGE

Mr. Lacourrege grew up in Slidell, and attended public schools, where he heard “We can’t talk about God.” frequently. He was thirsty to learn more about the Catholic faith, so he went to seminary. During this religious education, he felt led to teach so he could share his thirst for faith with others. He taught theology at Archbishop Shaw, and started at PJP this year. Mr. Lacourrege also manages service hours and student retreats, and moderates the Catholic Athletes for Christ club. He chose Pope John Paul II HS because he remembered being a little bit envious of PJP students when he was in school at Slidell High - PJP students could openly talk about God! He was pleasantly surprised with the number of quality programs available for PJP students and loves that PJP is a strong faith community where students are nurtured in body and soul.
